Definition:

Halal is an Arabic for permissible and halal food is that which adheres to Islamic law, as defined in the Quran. The Islamic form of slaughtering animals or poultry contains killing through a cut to the jugular vein, carotid artery and windpipe. According to Islamic traditions, before being slaughtered, God's name should be pronounced over the meat as a show of appreciation and then an animal is killed in one swift cut to its throat to confirm its blood is drained from its body. This is because traditions state that blood can be dangerous to the human body and should therefore be avoided.

Market Trends:

- Government Initiatives towards Food Quality Certification Scheme
- Increasing Improvement in Supply Chain in Retail Sector

Market Drivers:

- Increasing Muslim Population and Their Substantially Increasing Expenditure on Food
