

Los Angeles Injury Attorney Obtains $2 Million Settlement on Tesla Auto Accident

Los Angeles personal injury attorney obtained a $2 Million settlement on an auto accident claim involving a Tesla being driven on auto pilot.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, August 18, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Renowned personal injury attorney, Steven Sweat, once again demonstrated his relentless dedication to justice by obtaining a $2 million settlement on behalf of his client involved in a devastating auto accident. The defendant was driving a Tesla using "auto pilot" or self driving mode. The plaintiff sustained major back injuries requiring several surgeries. The case was filed in Los Angeles Superior Court (Leroy Stewart v. Tesla, Inc.; Kyle Shoji Toyama, et.al. - Los Angeles Superior Court Case Number 21STCV41752).

The settlement, a reflection of Mr. Sweat's unwavering commitment and legal acumen, underscores the importance of effective representation in personal injury cases. The amount is a testament to not only the gravity of the damages sustained by the victim but also to the tenacity with which Mr. Sweat approached the case.

"Every victim deserves a fighting chance, and in this particularly challenging case, we are grateful to have brought our client the justice they deserve," said Steven Sweat. "While no amount of money can truly compensate for the pain and suffering experienced, this settlement aims to provide some relief and support in rebuilding their life."

Mr. Sweat's reputation as a premier personal injury attorney is further solidified with this significant win. Over the years, he has consistently showcased his dedication, ensuring that each client receives the attention and justice they rightfully deserve.
