TIME & EXPENSE. BETTER TOGETHER.

DATABASICS Time & Expense

provider built on Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central, have partnered to deliver higher efficiency and productivity through integration and specialization.

The partnership will extend SylogistMission ERP's Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central implementations with DATABASICS' timesheet and expense reporting solutions; particularly for nonprofit, and non-governmental organizations (NGOs), which are markets where both Sylogist and DATABASICS focus.

With this partnership, we expand our capabilities to provide future joint customers the complete experience, from sales through configuration and support.”

DATABASICS Vice President of Sales Chris Harley

DATABASICS Time and Expense gives Sylogist customers the complete user experience for capturing expenses, labor, and billing details on projects and grants. This user experience supports everyone from end users to executives with ease of use and unmatched flexibility to streamlined controls and compliance. Organizations leveraging the combined DATABASICS & SylogistMission solutions will gain the data and oversight needed to monitor spend and labor activities thanks to real-time reporting, automated workflows, and seamless integration between the applications.

“This partnership brings immense value to our nonprofit, and local government customers, present and future. By integrating DATABASICS' solutions, we are excited to offer streamlined expense and labor management that brings unprecedented efficiencies to our customers, empowering them with real-time insights and automated workflows,” said Mark Sutton, Director of Strategic Partnerships at Sylogist.

DATABASICS Vice President of Sales Chris Harley said, “DATABASICS and Sylogist customers have been taking advantage of these two solutions for years. With this partnership, we expand our capabilities to provide future joint customers the complete experience, from sales through configuration and support.”
