Chelsea Reece is making waves in the fashion industry — one twirl at a time.

Chelsea Reece is set apart by its inspiring story of passion, innovation and accidental virality. Teresa Jack, driven by her love for fashion and desire to create an extraordinary dress, embarked on a mission to challenge industry standards. Drawing inspiration from her musical theater background, Teresa designed a dress that was not only elegant but also designed for twirling — an experience that sparks joy and embodies freedom.

We are not just a fashion brand: We are a lifestyle and a movement. Chelsea Reece is a celebration of timeless elegance, inclusivity and conscious consumption.”

Harnessing the power of TikTok and the support of the Salt Lake Community College entrepreneurship program, Teresa's vision quickly caught fire as she asked her followers for feedback for a class project. The video instead reached 1.8 million views, with 500 emails asking if they could buy the dress. Teresa only had one dress at the time and set out a pre-order that would take four months to fulfill. With only the image of a single dress and an illustration on a makeshift website, that first weekend saw 300 dresses sold, and a company was born.

Through an organic and explosive journey, Chelsea Reece's enchanting dresses captured the hearts of millions worldwide. The brand's Instagram rapidly grew to nearly 60,000 followers within its first few months, while its captivating content reached over 50 million views, solidifying its place in the fashion landscape and making its unique dress recognizable and iconic. In just three months, Teresa turned $300 into a million-dollar company.

Teresa's dress utilizes a unique design, one that allows wearers to twirl without exposing themselves. The hallmark of Chelsea Reece's design is the innovative underskirt that allows for worry-free twirling. Say goodbye to accidental slips and hello to carefree spinning! A four-way stretch underskirt protects the modesty of the dancer, while a 360-degree shell skirt twirls. Additionally, the dress features built-in crinoline that adds volume and shape, creating a truly transformative fashion experience.

Chelsea Reece's commitment to inclusivity shines through its dedication to diverse sizing. From 0 to 28, Chelsea Reece embraces every body type, ensuring that all individuals can experience the joy of wearing the brand's stunning dresses. Teresa spent months adjusting the pattern for a plus-sized body to make sure it represented the same and made each wearer feel equally included and seen. Breaking fashion barriers, Chelsea Reece challenges the norm by equipping all dresses with pockets — a practical touch that merges style and functionality.

As a new player in the industry, Chelsea Reece's rapid rise to success is a testament to its visionary leadership, ingenious marketing strategies and unwavering dedication to its mission. Valued at $1 million in just a few months, the brand has set a new benchmark for aspiring fashion entrepreneurs.
