Gordon has over a decade of experience in personal injury, wrongful death, and worker's compensation law, and has secured over 22 million in settlements for her injured clients. At Jane Gordon Law, Gordon looks forward to helping injury victims receive the maximum compensation they deserve.

Gordon's specific areas of practice include accidental gunshots, car accidents, daycare injuries, dog bites, motorcycle accidents, slip and falls, trucking accidents, and workers' compensation.

Gordon explains, "I specialize in taking a stressful event and guiding clients through them to successful resolutions. I love my work and take pride in helping clients obtain the best possible

Brittany O'Meara, client of Jane Gordon, shares, “Jane has now represented me in two accidents, both with little damage to my vehicle but both required medical care. She not only ensured my medical bills got paid but also helped me navigate all of this with zero worry or frustration, which allowed me to focus on healing and taking care of myself. She's a great advocate for people who have been injured!”

Another client of Jane Gordon, Jacob Sheffield, adds, “I worked with Jane, and she was amazing at answering every question I had regardless of how many times I asked the same question, was patient and reassuring of everything we did, and walked me through it all.
