

Telinta Enhances its Virtual Office Hosted PBX Solution to Help ITSPs Serve Small and Home-Based Business Users

New capabilities for Telinta's Virtual Office solution enable ITSPs to easily provide Hosted PBX to small and home-based business users. No IP phones required.

SPRINGFIELD, NJ, UNITED STATES, August 22, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Telinta, a global leader in white label cloud-based switching and billing solutions, today announced the addition of new capabilities to its unique Virtual Office solution.

Alex Ferdman, CEO of Telinta

Virtual Office is Telinta's award winning Hosted PBX solution enabling VoIP service providers to offer highly customizable services to small and home-based businesses. Virtual Office users can customize their own personal VoIP solution by navigating through brandable self-service web portals, selecting the features and capabilities they need.

Virtual Office users can sign-up online, select their own DIDs and Toll-Free numbers, add extensions, set up voicemail, configure an auto-attendant and IVR, set up call routing, set up conference calls, and more.

New features recently added include:

- Automated configuration to streamline the creation of new customer accounts
- Links to easily download Telinta's brandable Desktop Softphone for Windows and Mac
- New permissions for read-only admins

Unlike other VoIP solutions, Virtual Office does not require IP phones or an ATA and can be used with existing landline and mobile phones. It can also easily be used with any of Telinta's brandable mobile, desktop, and web-based softphone solutions.

"Telinta strives to continuously innovate, enhancing our VoIP solutions to help our customers win and retain highly-profitable business users," explained Alex Ferdman, Telinta's CEO. "Virtual Office is a unique solution offering the utmost in customization, both for VoIP service providers and for their end users."

Virtual Office is one of many white label solutions provided by Telinta to ITSPs and their resellers around the world via the company's cloud-based TeliCore (tm) softswitch and billing platform.

TeliCore integrates switching, billing and customer management to offer world-class solutions for VoIP service providers. Telinta leads the industry in providing its customers with comprehensive training and 24x7 live technical support.
