

Shiplux Revolutionizes Car Shipping with a New Booking App

Shiplux, a leading auto transport and logistics firm, is proud to announce the launch of its groundbreaking booking application.

UNITED STATE, August 25, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Shiplux, a leading auto transport and logistics firm, is proud to announce the launch of its groundbreaking booking application. This cutting-edge technology aims to transform the car shipping experience by offering customers unprecedented control and convenience.

Since its establishment in 2018, Shiplux has been working to revolutionize the logistics space. Under the visionary leadership of CEO Jordan Zinger, the company has continually expanded its internal organization to pioneer new technologies and elevate customer experience and service.

Booking Application: A New Era of On-Demand Car Shipping

Shiplux is looking to set a new standard in the industry with the introduction of its innovative booking application system. Unlike traditional car shipping services that provide a vague pickup window of 48-72 hours, Shiplux allows users to handpick a specific date for vehicle pickup. This revolutionary feature brings an unparalleled on-demand experience to car shipping, offering customers flexibility.

With Shiplux's booking application, customers can expect to experience a seamless and efficient car shipping process and reduced uncertain waiting times. Once the desired pickup date has been selected, and Shiplux will work toward ensuring a smooth and reliable shipping experience.

Embark on an Unrivaled Experience

The new Shiplux booking application is accompanied by an updated user interface, providing a comprehensive hub for customers to explore all aspects of vehicle shipments, domestic or international. Shiplux is committed to taking customer interaction to the next level with its omnichannel experience, empowering users to communicate with the company through their preferred means.

"At Shiplux, our mission is to redefine logistics with innovation and excellence. We are committed to pushing the boundaries of technology and delivering unparalleled customer experiences. Together, we're shaping the future of logistics." - Jordan Zinger, CEO of Shiplux.

Whether through live chat, email, or a phone call, Shiplux ensures that customers have the highest level of support and information. The user-friendly layout and intuitive navigation of the booking application make it easier for clients to access the needed services and stay informed throughout the shipping process.
