

Quixy Wins the 2023 Tech Cares Award by TrustRadius

HYDERABAD, TELANGANA, INDIA,
August 28, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Quixy, an advanced enterprise-grade no-code development platform, has achieved a remarkable milestone by being honored with the prestigious 2023 Tech Cares Award. This recognition stands as a testament to Quixy's unwavering dedication to corporate social responsibility, reflecting its profound impact on customers, communities, and the environment.

The Tech Cares Award holds significant esteem within the technology sector. It signifies a company's commitment to ethical and sustainable best practices and social responsibility. The recipients of this award are regarded as pioneers in championing volunteerism, diversity, equity, charitable contributions, workplace culture, and environmental sustainability.

Quixy's Corporate Social Responsibility Initiatives Focus on Five Key Areas:

The key areas of social corporate responsibility we focused on were:

Volunteerism □

Robust diversity, equity, and inclusion programs □

Charitable donations and fundraising □

Workplace culture, including model support for in-office & remote employees □

Demonstrable support for environmental sustainability □

"Congratulations to Quixy for earning the Tech Cares Award. Their commitment to environmental sustainability, diversity and inclusion, charitable donations, volunteerism, and employee support truly makes a positive impact on customers, communities, and the environment." – Megan Headley, VP of Research, TrustRadius.

"This recognition inspires us to continue pushing the boundaries of innovation while remaining dedicated to the betterment of our communities and the world. Our focus on volunteerism, diversity, equity, charitable giving, employee well-being, and environmental sustainability embodies our belief in using technology as a force for good." – Vivek Goel, VP of Marketing, Quixy.
