SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, August 30, 2023
/EINPresswire.com/ -- From BEE to Beefree: Introducing a Brand Rooted in Freedom And Creativity

The popular no-code email builders embrace their roots in "free" as they reach over 350,000 users per month.

BEE, a pioneer in no-code email creation tools, has announced its official rebrand to Beefree. From its inception as the "Best Email Editor" (BEE), Beefree has broadened its capabilities by integrating advanced artificial intelligence features, collaboration tools, and additional integrations, thus expanding its user base. Now, Beefree's tools for designing emails and pages are utilized by over 350,000 users every month across 120 countries, including by industry giants such as Amazon, Google, and Disney.

At Beefree, we believe in providing users the freedom to design without limits, allowing their creativity to soar.”

Massimo Arrigoni, CEO and co-founder, Beefree

Beefree’s intuitive HTML builders have gained widespread popularity due to their dual accessibility. First, users can access them directly on beefree.io; here, over 40,000 monthly users design more than 250,000 emails and landing pages, subsequently exporting them to dozens of CRMs and marketing applications. Second, these builders are embedded into over 600 other SaaS applications, becoming an integral component of the user interface through the Beefree SDK.”

The transition to Beefree emphasizes the ethos of freedom, aiming to offer users a design experience devoid of technical hurdles, pricing constraints, and product complexities that could lead to frustrations.

"At Beefree, we believe in providing users the freedom to design without limits, allowing their creativity to soar," said Massimo Arrigoni, CEO and co-founder. "This evolution of the brand underscores its growth beyond just email editing and deepens our commitment to democratizing the creation of beautiful, accessible content for everyone."

Alongside the rebranding, the company is announcing the renaming of its products: BEE Pro and BEE Plugin which are now Beefree and Beefree SDK, respectively. While the names are evolving, the products themselves will remain consistent, ensuring that customers continue to experience the products they've grown to love and trust.

Despite these changes, the company will continue to operate as Bee Content Design, Inc., a business unit under Growens.

The company is gearing up to debut its new brand at two premier conferences: SaaStr Annual in the Bay Area and HubSpot's Inbound in Boston, both scheduled from September 6 to 8, 2023.

"SaaStr Annual and Inbound are the ideal platforms to introduce our new brand identity to the market and showcase our unwavering commitment to delivering cutting-edge, limitless content creation solutions to our customers," added Luca Penati, CMO at Beefree.
