SANDRA CARUSO, EXECUTIVE
DIRECTOR & FOUNDER OF HEROES
FOUNDATION OF AMERICA

"A catalyst of change, a major driver of economic growth, benefits to society, and a positive impact on the quality of education."

For thirty-one years Sandra Caruso has dedicated her life to teaching, guiding, counseling, and helping students in the Palm Beach County School District. She started her career in 1984 as a French teacher at John I. Leonard High School and then became an assistant principal at the school. Her passion for helping and empowering GED students encouraged her to form HEROES Foundation of America, a non-profit organization where scholarships, counseling, and other support services boost GED graduations and transition students to postsecondary, vocational, or employment opportunities.
