By completing the life chapters, individuals gain new skills for self improvement, self reflection, and professional growth by focusing on decisions, traits, behaviors, values, and skills that align with a greater purpose in one's life.

Over 3,000 “businessmen” have registered for MeChat Universe's self-improvement courses and with this new technology-driven curriculum, Director Antonio James believes more people will take charge of creating a future for themselves.

"As a film director, I wanted to empower individuals to become the architects of their own success stories," explains film director Antonio James, founder, "'MeChat Universe' is not just a platform; it's a movement that rewards relentless self-improvement and enables people to turn their dreams into scripted realities."

Online self-improvement programs are gaining traction as more people leave the workforce to become their own boss. The “Great Resignation” era has led to an explosion of self improvement solutions such as seminars, business coaching, conferences, workshops, and webinars with technology making personal and professional development accessible to everyone in the world.

MeChat Universe is scheduled to release “Life Chapters” in 2025. Early enrollment is now open, offering users to try new features as they are released, including MeChat Universe community platform facilitating networking and collaborative learning.

Early users will get access to personal and professional development tools, such as bespoke content, group coaching, exclusive skill development workshops, and several Life Chapters to fill out.

No matter the industry, environment, or impact MeChat Universe personal and professional growth “Life Chapters,” give individuals a comprehensive solution to shape over 20 aspects of their lives for the better.
