The partnership merges Sportlogiq's AI-powered analytics capabilities with Inside Edge's industry-leading Remarkable™ platform, resulting in an integrated suite of tools that will empower broadcasters, sports books, producers, researchers, and content creators with instantaneous insights that enhances coverage and provide audiences with an enriched understanding of the game.

"We're excited to partner with Inside Edge and bring Remarkable™ to the hockey market, starting with the NHL," said Craig Buntin, Co-Founder and CEO of Sportlogiq. "By uniting our AI-driven analytics with Inside Edge's industry leading platform, we are arming media professionals with hundreds of insights that will revolutionize the way hockey is experienced. "

Kenny Kendrena, VP of Product & Sales at Inside Edge added, "We are thrilled to partner with Sportlogiq. Not only is it exciting to expand Remarkable into another new sport, but to collaborate with the market leader in ice hockey tracking data is really special. We're looking forward to the many opportunities to serve NHL teams, media, and sports betting partners thanks to this new and exciting partnership."

For more information on the Sportlogiq and Inside Edge partnership and how it can elevate your NHL coverage, please contact Patrick Markey (Patrick@Sportlogiq.com) or Kenny Kendrena (kendrena@inside-edge.com).
