New Heights for the S5 4th Gen. Fitness Tracker

Flaunting a 0.96-inch high-definition single-touch screen, the S5 4th Gen. Fitness Tracker delivers sharp content displays and easy navigation. This user-friendly interface and seamless interaction allow users to easily access the information they need.

Starmax's S5 4th Generation Fitness Tracker takes sports monitoring to a whole new level. Equipped with advanced sensors, it supports up to 16 different sports modes and real-time heart rate monitoring. The incorporation of advanced sports algorithms helps optimize physical activity, delivering data-backed insights that foster progress and success.

But the S5 4th Gen. Fitness Tracker doesn't stop at fitness. It offers a comprehensive health monitoring method by measuring 5 key indicators—heart rate, blood oxygen, blood pressure, blood sugar, and stress—with just one touch. This real-time access to critical health information empowers users to proactively manage their well-being.

New S5 4th Gen. Fitness Tracker, Empower Your Journey

With over 200 watch face options and a spectrum of 9 strap colors, the new S5 smart bracelet caters to diverse tastes and styles. But the customization doesn't stop there. Users can delve into the realm of self-expression by crafting personalized watch faces, ensuring their smart wristband is as unique as they are.

The device's stamina matches its versatility. A powerful 105mAh battery ensures up to 28 days of light use mode on a single charge. * This data comes from Starmax Lab.
