ABOUT Arkisys

Arkisys build Space platforms and vessels that will be able to be re-docked and re-used again and again, enabling low cost lease-based services for new innovations, inventions, communications, and creative assemblies in Space.

Through adaptive hardware and software interfaces, web-based interface ordering, and options for fast launch and data transport, Arkisys provides multiple services for a Global customer base. Arkisys is developing a platform that will connect you to your data, your mission and your new space vessel.

Arkisys is building one of the first Business Platforms in Space for new Technology Hosting, Satellite Integration, Assembly and Resupply. "The Port" is a lighthouse on orbit and a beacon to enable existing and new customers and markets in Earth orbit, the Moon, Mars and beyond. The Arkisys Port supports scaleable rapid prototyping, new payload and technology testing, assembly and integration of new free-flying space platforms, and destinations for orbital transfer vehicles and on-orbit assembly and manufacturing. Arkisys is unlocking undiscovered markets and enabling pioneering technologies for the new ecosystem of space development.

Arkisys are enabling your new business to test, experiment, build and fly re-useable space platforms and vehicles as quickly as three months from order. Arkisys help you get to the Port and provide security upon arrival. The Port can scale with your business needs on demand, from Earth and beyond.
