leadership training, businesses struggle to reach their full potential and chief executives may be concerned about a transition plan for the organization. At Jeff Oskin Executive Coaching, we understand these challenges and have developed an executive leadership coaching process designed to help businesses address this issue.

Our executive leadership coaching process is designed to provide comprehensive training and support to senior leaders, helping them to grow and develop the skills necessary to become more effective leaders while driving business growth and success. Our approach is based upon the 20 bad habits successful individuals often possess as defined in Marshall Goldsmith's book, "What Got You Here Won't Get You There."

"We believe that strong leadership is key to a company's success," says Jeff Oskin, CEO of Jeff Oskin Executive Coaching. "Our executive coaching process is designed to help business owners and their staff unlock their business's potential and reach their goals."

The Jeff Oskin executive leadership coaching process is tailored to the individual needs of each business. We work with business leaders to identify areas of improvement and develop strategies to help them reach their goals via a tailored coaching plan. We will provide guidance and support throughout the process as well as access to our online coaching platform, helping
