As we embark on our 94th year the diversity of our student body, our unique educational approach, and our stunning surroundings create an exceptional environment for learning, growth, and adventure”

Kristin Durow

With students hailing from countries such as Vietnam, Kazakhstan, Poland, Germany, and more, The Orme School offers a truly global educational experience.

Complementing this international flavor is a substantial local student body from Arizona, thanks, in part, to the support of several School Tuition Organizations (STOs).

Operating grades 8-12, The Orme School is a college-preparatory boarding school that has earned a reputation for its distinctive emphasis on hands-on learning, sustainability, outdoor adventure, and horsemanship. These pillars form the foundation of an education that equips students with valuable life skills while nurturing their intellectual curiosity.

In the spirit of fostering camaraderie and integration, the first week of the school year has been filled with engaging orientation events. Students have participated in exciting activities like water wars, community picnics, casino night, and a field trip to Bull Pen. These events not only build friendships but also reinforce the school's commitment to a holistic education that goes beyond the classroom.

Kristin Durow, President, expressed her enthusiasm for the upcoming year: "As we embark on our 94th year, we are filled with excitement and optimism for the remarkable journey ahead. The diversity of our student body, our unique educational approach, and our stunning natural surroundings create a truly exceptional environment for learning, growth, and adventure."

Even though the school year has already begun, The Orme School still has openings for immediate enrollment. Prospective students and their families are encouraged to contact the admissions department at admissions@ormeschool.org for more information.
