data from the World Health Organization (WHO) stating that roughly 1 in 6 people worldwide will be affected by infertility during their lifetime, it has never been more important to back this growing population. Reproductive Science Center of the San Francisco Bay Area (RSC), celebrating 40 years of family building, invites the public to support fertility services in their community by attending this year's Corks with Cade fundraiser.

From 2018 to 2022 RSC has raised $154,064 through sponsorship of this event. With the expectation of 125+ visitors this year, RSC hopes to raise at least $23,800. To purchase tickets, visit the Corks with Cade Eventbrite page at 23CACorks.eventbrite.com.

This year's RSC Corks with Cade fundraiser will take place September 23 from 6-9 p.m. at Dante Robere Vineyards in Livermore, CA. This evening features wine tasting, food trucks, a silent auction and a live DJ with all proceeds going to support the Tinina Q. Cade Foundation. The foundation's grants assist families with the costs associated with fertility treatment or adoption.

Jenafer Ramirez was overjoyed when she and her husband, Robert, were awarded the Cade Foundation's Family Building Grant in 2019. Along with the help of the experts at RSC, the couple became pregnant and welcomed their son, R.J., into the world on October 3, 2020.

“I can't say enough great things about the Cade Foundation,” Jenafer says. “Being an infertile woman is an extremely difficult struggle and it can be very private. To find a place where I could share my struggle with others who understood what I was going through and support each other has been a fulfilling and validating experience.”

For more than 40 years, RSC has been helping individuals and couples of all genders achieve their dreams of having a family through assisted reproductive technologies. In that time, RSC has continually connected patients with financial resources to ease the burden of paying for infertility treatments, which are often not covered by healthcare insurance. The Corks with Cade event helps tremendously.
