provider of community college data analytics solutions, announced today that Johnston Community College \(JCC\), a member of the North Carolina Community College System and a leader in academic success and workforce development, has selected ZogoTech's platform to help the college improve student experiences, better tailor support services to individual student needs, and reduce inequities between various student populations.

“By harnessing the insights provided by ZogoTech, JCC will continue to adapt and innovate, ensuring our students always receive the support they need to achieve their academic and career goals,” notes JCC President, Dr. Vern

Lindquist. “Data plays a pivotal role in shaping education and this partnership will enable us to make better, data-informed decisions that positively impact our students' academic journey.”

Located in one of the fastest-growing counties in North Carolina, JCC serves more than 13,000 students annually and awards associate degrees, certificates, and diplomas across 35 occupational programs of study. By partnering with ZogoTech, the college is looking to gain deeper insights into student performance, engagement, and success, ultimately leading to a more tailored and effective educational experience for students.

“At JCC, we're dedicated to fostering an environment where every student can thrive. ZogoTech will enable our faculty, staff, and administrators to harness the power of data-driven insights without IT or IR involvement,” comments Vice President of Institutional Research and Effectiveness, Dr. Terri Lee. “By tailoring our support services to individual student needs, we aim to catalyze greater academic achievements and produce graduates who are even better prepared for the workforce.”
