Creatosaurus is the #1 social media marketing tool, bringing together graphic design, AI content creation, hashtag analytics & scheduling in one platform.

PUNE, MAHARASHTRA, INDIA, September 8, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Telling stories in the digital & social media world is a stressful & chaotic process with so many different people involved, tools to manage, and so many various problems to solve.

There are hundreds of marketing tools along with multiple roles in marketing that have to come together at various stages of marketing from curation to creation to distribution to analytics. Making sure all these together are seamless is complicated and difficult.

This is where marketing teams struggle to get their work done & let alone scale their marketing efforts. As creative individuals, everyone is frustrated with juggling multiple marketing tools, stressed with the process of team collaboration, and let's not even talk about the overwhelming chaos of scaling marketing strategies.

So, the solution for all these problems is Creatosaurus AI. It's a platform that lets easily curate ideas, design graphics, write AI content, schedule posts, search hashtags, craft articles, apps, and more - all in one place.

Journey of Discovering the Perfect Product

Malav Warke is the co-founder & CEO of Creatosaurus AI. He dabbled with many ideas in my high school and college years. One of them was Yolo Cloud, which was a community platform for students to build entrepreneurial talent and share their perspectives.

One fine day it just clicked with him to do AI-based influencer marketing, which would benefit creators and brands on a micro-level. Thus started Creatosaurus with his friend Saurabh.

Then one day, they were trying to directly schedule the Canva graphic to Buffer and it was not possible. That became the turning point and one thing led to another. There was no tool or platform that optimizes the workflow of creators.

Then they started with the new Creatosaurus AI, an all-in-one creator stack with his friend and co-founder Mayur.

What is Creatosaurus AI

Creatosaurus AI is the #1 social media marketing tool, bringing together graphic design, AI content creation, hashtag analytics & scheduling in one platform. It effortlessly scales storytelling while saving time, resources & money.

The mission is to empower creators. And vision is Democratizing storytelling. Creatosaurus is one true home for creators. The platform is built for companies with distributed teams, global creative individuals, and creators of tomorrow - those focused on content, community, culture, and commerce.

At Creatosaurus, the belief is that the future of content creation is all about storytelling. That's why this platform is created that does everything, so one can focus on what they do best. Adobe is old, bloated & difficult to use desktop software, Canva has little to less creative flexibility & Buffer is not collaborative enough. Creatosaurus combines the best of all & makes collaboration across various stages of marketing optimized, scalable, and streamlined.

Explore Through Creatosaurus AI

Creatosaurus AI is an all-in-one creator workspace for teams, to connect with audiences faster across all stages of the storytelling lifecycle. So, the team can work together, no matter where they are.

Creatosaurus' design editor allows us to create stunning graphics, while the AI writer generates high-conversion copies. With the scheduling feature, managing all social media posts from one place has never been easier. Hashtag analytics help optimize post reach, & one can even add team members to collaborate.

Plus, Creatosaurus integrates with 20+ 3rd-party apps, making it the ultimate powerhouse for marketers looking to boost their social media presence!

It has integration with apps like Google Photos, Unsplash, Pexels, and Pixabay to find photos and use them for free, then have Clearbit to find the logo of any company, and QR Code to customize QR code. Also have Dropbox, uploads, and a Brand kit.

This is a place where imaginative minds come to thrive. Creatosaurus believes in the power of creators, the ones who dare to dream big and relentlessly pursue their goals. It is dedicated to empowering creators to bring stories to life and push the boundaries of what's possible.
