

Gausium featured in NHS 75: Celebrating 75 Years of the National Health Service

Gausium, a renowned pioneer in the field of autonomous floor cleaning solutions, is featured in the NHS 75 celebratory book.

LONDON, UK, September 8, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The History of Parliament Trust – one of the most ambitious and authoritative academic projects in British history unveiled a new publication entitled NHS 75: Celebrating 75 Years of the National Health Service at the Palace of Westminster on 6 September 2023.

This beautifully presented hardback book has been produced in partnership with leading publisher St James's House and written by a team of academics and industry experts. Exploring the origins, history and impact of the NHS, the fully illustrated publication marks the 75th anniversary of the service, and the people and policies that have shaped it.
