

NC Wallet introduces One-click Payments in Browser Extension

NC Wallet introduces a new feature for its browser extension — now, users can make transactions on the fly just with a single click.

HONG KONG, September 13, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- What do users need from a crypto wallet embedded in a browser? Simple access and minimal interactions. The NC Wallet browser extension owns all of the mentioned above. With the latest update, customers can select an address on any web page, right click on it to find themselves already confirming transactions in the wallet. This safe and convenient way to pay with crypto requires no extra moves making transactions easy and smooth.

More than 100,000 people have already installed the NC Wallet extension and enjoy sending funds and making purchases in crypto while navigating the Web. It is available for all Chromium browsers, including Google Chrome, CryptoTab, Microsoft Edge, Opera, etc. and can be downloaded for free from any web store for free.
