

Christine McDonald's Upcoming Children's Book, Just Imagine More Beautiful World, is Bound to Leave a Lasting Impression

UNITED STATE, September 13, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The author's latest book brings young readers a story celebrating new experiences and the world's beauty. Children's books will always have a space in the marketplace because they help children develop their literacy skills and serve as great entertainment. Pacific Northwest author, Christine McDonald, is releasing a new picture book to captivate children.

Christine's upcoming children's book comes on the heels of her previously published work, Where Everything Wild Has a Home, Wild Poems, which became available for readers in December 2022. In addition, she's also the author of My Two Mothers, a collection of prose and poetry.

Just Imagine a More Beautiful World showcases Christine's literary prowess. McDonald's playful story involves a thought-provoking classroom assignment given to young students on their first day of school by their teacher, Mrs. Burns. The task is for each child to make an inclusive and welcoming world using cardboard and all the colors of the rainbow—and to ensure there is a door so they can always find their way back to their heart.

With striking prismatic spreads and a heartwarming text, the story celebrates the first day of school, its challenges, and the surprises of belonging and making the world a better place. Families and educators of young children will welcome a book that paves the way for a promising start to a young child's new school year.

In conversation, Christine shared, "I wanted to create a vivid and engaging picture book that helped children celebrate new experiences and the beauty of the world around us." Illustrator Julene Ewert brought the story alive with her precious animal characters.
