“The old way of ordering stairs is a complicated process that used to take weeks or even months for custom stairs to get delivered.” Said Ryan Miller, President and CEO, “Stair Zone launched originally with standard straight stairways only. Our old system required a sales person or engineer to generate drawings and pricing for customer stairways, but now it's fully automated. Customers can just build their stair using our online stair builder and never have to talk to a salesman.”

Approval drawings will be sent to customer's emails within 2-4 minutes. After approval, they will then place their order. Stairs are shipped in 3 weeks and arrive pre-assembled, giving customers easy installation and reduced downtime.

Miller said, “We have made your custom stairway our standard. Any stair configuration with custom options are all within our standard lead times. Customers will receive approval drawings
