The Tampa Bay Latin International Film Festival seeks to uplift Latine stories and filmmakers of all ages and stages of life by exploring Latin America's emerging and established talent in film through documentaries or short Latin American films to the Tampa Bay community. Our hope is to fuel connection, deepening engagement and knowledge of the Latinx community by providing more outlets for these extraordinary voices in film, not typically seen in commercial theaters, we will explore the incredibly diverse perspectives that Latin America has to offer the world. As we learn more and promote Latina/o/x/e film, art, theater and music throughout Tampa Bay.

For MiGente MiPueblo's 4th Annual Movida, the festival invites the audience to reflect on the theme ¿y quien es mi gente? Mis Raices & My Identity. Our roots are black, indigenous, white. Our shared identity is intersectional and emergently complex. We need to get to know who we are together and with each other. This Festival will further a dialogue that will create greater understanding and empathy for others, while growing the network of advocates for a thriving community. Tampa Bay Latin Film Festival will accept submissions through September 8th, 2023.

The event is free to attend and you can secure tickets in advance at Eventbrite or by searching for the Tampa Bay Latin Film Festival.
