CHICAGO, IL, US, September 15, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Marking a momentous occasion in the world of extreme sports, Chicago's very own Dorothy Hoffner, at the age of 104, is geared up to shatter the skydiving world record. The audacious attempt, scheduled for the upcoming week, will undeniably demonstrate that age remains no barrier to achieving lofty aspirations.

Born in an era witnessing the Great Depression and global wars, Hoffner has always embodied resilience and zest. Her upcoming feat seeks not just personal achievement but aims to inspire and remind individuals globally that age should never be a hindrance to chasing one's passions.

The current record is held by a 103-year-old skydiver. Hoffner's courageous plunge will etch her name in the annals of history, serving as an enduring testament to the indomitable human spirit.

Supporters, media, and the general public are invited to join and witness this groundbreaking event. Details regarding the jump's exact location and time can be accessed via the event's official webpage.
