Architectural Design Awards

The competition seeks to promote and recognize stellar designs in all countries and across all creative disciplines. At its core, it endeavors to amplify the global awareness and appreciation for good design practices and principles. Entrants are encouraged to showcase designs that not only exhibit aesthetic brilliance but also contribute positively to society, thereby helping to shape a better future.

A Platform for Pioneering Architectural Design

Architecture, in essence, is a reflection of society's collective creativity, blending aesthetics with functionality. The A' Design Award for Architecture transcends mere buildings, symbolizing cultural milestones and manifesting as works of art. These timeless creations, characterized by durability, functionality, and aesthetic appeal, mark the progress of civilizations. The A' Design Award for Architecture is committed to nurturing this creativity and encouraging a multi-disciplinary approach to spatial design, where innovation meets excellence.

A' Design Prize: Recognizing and Elevating Winners

Winners of the A' Design Award for Architecture are conferred with the illustrious "A' Design Prize", a comprehensive package that includes an excellence in design certificate, invitation to Designer.org design community, an exclusive invitation to the gala night in Italy, and a unique 3D printed metal award trophy, among other benefits. This prize is instrumental in giving the awarded projects a global platform, with the projects being translated into over 108 languages, facilitating a truly international audience reach.

Entries and Evaluation: A Transparent and Influential Process

Entries to the competition, accepted till September 30, 2023, undergo a meticulous peer-review process by a jury panel of seasoned academics, prominent press members, and established professionals. The process ensures an unbiased evaluation, fostering a competitive environment where only the most innovative and impactful designs are rewarded. All entries designed within the last 10 years are welcome, and the results will be announced on April 15, 2024.

A Philanthropic Vision: Shaping a Better Future

The A' Design Award & Competition goes beyond recognizing individual talents, embedding a philanthropic vision in its core operations. It acts as a catalyst to push the boundaries of science, design, creativity, and technology, aiming to foster innovation and the generation of novel ideas in all industrial sectors. Ultimately, it seeks to propel society forward, urging creators worldwide to develop products and projects that contribute positively to the world.

How to Participate

Designers eager to showcase their innovative projects and become a part of this global movement can find more information and submit their entries by visiting the official A' Architectural Design Award Presentation website at <https://architecturedesignaward.com>
