The Fearfully And Wonderfully Made Conference

overcome challenges and enhance leadership skills.

Rechard Larkin, the driving force behind this event, brings to the table his extensive background as a pastor, coach, and consultant. His commitment to lifelong learning, reflected in his Bachelor of Science Degree from Georgia College & State University, underscores his ability to impart valuable insights and counsel to attendees.

As Senior Pastor at Mitchell Zion Baptist Church, Larkin possesses an intimate understanding of the needs of his local community, youth, and the broader body of Christ. Additionally, he serves as a Chaplain at The Hancock State Prison, where he provides support to both the offender population and staff. Through coaching and consulting individuals, groups, and organizations in the Middle GA area, Larkin has guided numerous individuals in contributing value to their communities and achieving their aspirations.

The "Fearfully and Wonderfully Made Virtual Conference" is not only about personal growth but also about building a vibrant and supportive community. Attendees will connect with peers who share their commitment to embracing divine purpose and making an impact.

Rechard Larkin's ultimate objective with this conference is to reach a million individuals, men, women, and families, providing them with the guidance and support needed for their success.
