

Formaspace Introduces RGX Adaptive Lab Casework

RGX modular casework by Formaspace transforms laboratories with adaptability, fast installation, and lead times as short as 8 weeks

AUSTIN, TX, USA, September 18, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Formaspace has launched RGX modular casework, a new type of casework that will transform the life sciences workspace design. The RGX Modular Casework redefines the standards for laboratories with its adaptability, flexibility, and cost-effectiveness.

Breaking away from the traditional casework models, RGX offers a fresh perspective on lab space furnishing and design. This modular casework can integrate with traditional millwork, allowing clients to add RGX into an existing workspace easily. Its modular components bolt together, cutting down installation times from days to mere hours. RGX units are designed to accommodate plumbing and sinks in virtually any configuration, offering flexibility and convenience.

Brett Gray, Project Manager & Industrial Design Team Lead

“ The RGX line is our newest product line and it's truly modular case goods. It's designed to be completely flexible for people doing startup labs. It's a lower cost point, same product quality, with much more flexibility to move the product around the lab versus traditional casework. ” - Brett Gray, Project Manager & Industrial Design Team Lead.

RGX lead times are as fast as 8 weeks, and depreciation is 7 years versus 39 years. For more information about RGX Modular Casework, please visit
