Executive Officer*

Francisco Association of REALTORS® Board of Directors for the term commencing January 1, 2024, along with three other REALTOR® members. Directors' elections are held annually to replace outgoing directors completing their terms of office.

Barnacle has a strong background in residential and commercial real estate markets, working for brokerages in Boston and Rhode Island before relocating to San Francisco in 2012. In San Francisco, he quickly became a top producer and Top Agent Network member, subsequently taking on his current leadership role at the company in 2015. His expertise in the business has made him a valuable mentor to agents at all experience levels, with many satisfied clients and successful agent teams to his credit.

He is and has been actively involved in the real estate community, serving on the Board of the California Association of REALTORS®, the Board, Executive Committee, and Budget & Finance Committees of the San Francisco Association of REALTORS®, and as a Board Member of the San Francisco Women's Council of REALTORS®. Michael has been involved in many community organizations outside of work, including serving as the Past President of the United Irish Cultural Center of San Francisco.

"We congratulate Michael on this latest of his many achievements as he continues to excel at all his endeavors," remarked Randall Kostick, Chief Executive Officer of Corcoran Icon Properties. "His leadership skills, knowledge of the industry, the community, our clients, and our staff are all part of what makes Michael continually successful."
