

Marie Antoinette's Sapphire Diamonds Fashion Reveal: A Bold Statement For Sexual Assault Victims

The Sapphire Diamonds Fashion Reveal is designed to raise awareness about the pervasive issue of sexual assault, a cause deeply personal to Marie Antoinette.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, September 20, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In a powerful fusion of fashion and activism, Atlanta's renowned fashion designer, Marie Antoinette, is set to unveil her latest collection, Sapphire Diamonds, on October 1, 2023. This event is taking place at the Atlanta Event Center, and will draw influencers, designers, musicians, and creatives from around Atlanta and beyond.

The Sapphire Diamonds Fashion Reveal is designed to raise awareness about the pervasive issue of sexual assault, a cause deeply personal to Marie Antoinette. The evening promises to be an immersive experience, beginning with the premiere of the documentary, "I Don't Want You." This film delves into the inspiration behind the Sapphire Diamonds collection, sharing personal experiences, and advice, while offering a behind-the-scenes look at the creation and inspiration of the collection.

But the evening doesn't stop there. Attendees will be treated to live entertainment from the likes of Crissy Collins, known for her work with Beyoncé, who will also be hosting the event. The musical landscape will be further enriched by the talents of violinist Joy Black and opera-trained vocalist Zorian Wilson. And for those with an appetite, a private chef will cater to VIP attendees, while general admission guests can enjoy a selection of hors d'oeuvres.

The Sapphire Diamonds event has also gained support from Molly Hopkins, a well-known TV personality from the hit reality show, "90-day Fiancé".

The event will also pay tribute to two remarkable women: Katie Koestner, founder of the Take Back The Night Foundation, and Erica Atkins of Birdsong Bookstore, a community pillar who tragically lost her life this year.

Marie Antoinette's partnership with the Take Back The Night Foundation for Sexual Assault Awareness Month, began in April this year, her dedication and advocacy in designing her bold streetwear collection is a testament to her commitment to this cause. Her previous works, like the documentary and book titled MELANIN, have always centered around social justice issues. The Sapphire Diamonds collection is no different.

I chose graffiti as the inspiration for my design because of the legacy of the art form. Graffiti is a form of vandalism, and yet it is one of the most powerful forms of art and expression today.”

Drawing inspiration from graffiti, the collection is both a celebration of artful activism and a poignant commentary on violation. With designs featuring phrases like "Kiss Me" and "Why Did You Wear That?", Marie Antoinette transforms words often used derogatorily into powerful statements of defiance against perpetrators of sexual assault.
