

Cooperheat Equipment Ltd. Acquires Stork UK's Cooperheat Manufacturing Division

Cooperheat Equipment Limited is pleased to announce a landmark acquisition that positions the company as a key player in the field of heat treatment industry.

ENGLAND, UK, September 20, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Cooperheat Equipment Limited is pleased to announce a landmark acquisition that positions us as a key player in the field heat treatment equipment industry. On September 7th, 2023, Cooperheat Equipment Limited successfully completed the acquisition of the Cooperheat manufacturing and equipment division from Stork Technical Services UK Limited. This strategic move also includes the granting of a license to use the Cooperheat brand in the UK, USA, and Canada.

This acquisition represents a significant step forward for Cooperheat Equipment Limited, as it allows us to consolidate our presence in key markets and continue our legacy of excellence in the field heat treatment industry.

Leading this new chapter is Scott Fong, who assumed the role as Director of Cooperheat Equipment Limited. Scott's journey began in 2000 as a Field Technician with Cooperheat Canada, and over the years, he has demonstrated exceptional industry expertise. In 2006, he founded Kasi Technologies, and in May 2023, he expanded his portfolio by acquiring Technical Heat Treatment Services Ltd. Scott's passion for preserving Cooperheat's legacy as a pioneer in field heat treatment since 1958 is palpable.
