EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, Harvest Hosts announces its recent accolade as the Best Alternative Camping Experience in RVshare's Campers' Choice Awards, "The Campies". Earlier this summer season, RVshare, the largest online community for RV owners and renters, launched the second round of their annual campground awards, "The Campies". This program is meant to spotlight the top properties across the nation in six competing categories. Harvest Hosts is proud to receive this award for its strong commitment to the industry and plans to continue providing top tier camping experiences for travelers to come. All of Harvest Hosts 4000+ locations were recognized under this achievement.

Earlier this summer season, RVshare welcomed all past, present and future RV travelers, renters, campground owners and employees, and travel enthusiasts to nominate their favorite campgrounds. Nominations closed on August 26, where the top finalists were then distributed to a carefully selected group of panelists to make their selection of winners. This year's panelists included a range of RV travel experts, influencers, spokespeople, editors and more in the outdoor and RV travel space. A full list of panelists and their biographies can be found at rvshare.com/campies.

"RVshare is proud to recognize, support and promote campgrounds across the country, while also offering resources and assistance to our renters who want to make informed decisions through their entire travel planning process," said RVshare Travel Expert, Maddi Bourgerie.

In the past year, Harvest Hosts has put in the effort to make sure RVers have all the resources and opportunities to have great experiences on the road. This includes updating the Harvest Hosts app, launching a new campground discount program called CampersCard, and launching a new campground scanning platform called CampScanner.

“This award means so much to everyone on the Harvest Hosts team.” Bill Zhang, CMO at Harvest Hosts shares. “We’re thrilled to be recognized for all the work we’ve put into providing our members with the best possible experience.”
