

Decorative Glass Market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5% during 2020-2030

Rise in demand for decorative glass in the building & construction Industry expected to drive Decorative Glass Market.

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE, UNITED STATES, September 21, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Decorative Glass Market is expected to expand at a CAGR of 5% during the forecast period, and reaching US$ 8.7 Bn by 2030. The primary driver behind the market's revenue growth is the increasing demand for aesthetically pleasing glass designs across various industries, including construction, automotive, and interior design. Furthermore, the growing emphasis on environmentally friendly and energy-efficient glass products is motivating manufacturers to continuously innovate in decorative glass technologies.

The construction industry is expected to witness a substantial increase in the demand for decorative glass as more homes and businesses are built. The ongoing trend of using decorative glass in interior design and architecture, spanning applications like furniture, shower enclosures, and wall partitions, is a significant driver of market revenue growth. Decorative glass not only enhances the visual appeal but also elevates the overall ambiance of buildings. Its popularity is extending to commercial structures such as hotels and shopping malls.

Another vital end-use sector for the decorative glass market is the automotive industry, where decorative glass finds application in car windows, windshields, and sunroofs. The market's revenue growth is fuelled by the rising demand for lightweight and aesthetically pleasing glass in automotive design. The interior and exterior of residential and commercial buildings frequently utilize decorative glass because it adds beauty, privacy, light and space. The use of decorative glass expands the possibilities for artistic expression because it is a flexible and sustainable material. It helps architects and interior designers to realize their ideas via the use of elements that are both aesthetically pleasing and functionally sound.
