The brilliant sound design speaks a universal love language in ĒISA's latest single, "Ramen on Melrose," now available at all digital stores.

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, September 22, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- One year ago, ĒISA made her first public introduction to the music industry with the release of her debut single, "Only if You let it." The single peaked at #8 on the All Access What's In Store Charts for retail store play and gained global attention from Spotify playlist curators, grammy award-winning music producers, and the media, including an interview with celebrity host Mario Lopez. Trailing behind were two follow-up singles, including "Heaven" and a holiday cover of "White Christmas," which carried her through the end of 2022. "Ramen on Melrose" is

My memories painted a strong picture in my mind, and I felt the need to document them lyrically and creatively through visual art and music.”

ĒISA's first single of 2023 and a long-awaited, highly anticipated production that showcases her multifaceted skill set as a singer-songwriter, performer, director, and overall creative visionary. "Ramen on Melrose" is now available at all digital stores.

"Ramen on Melrose" (ROM) is co-written by ĒISA, Robbie Dean, and Chlo Subia, produced by Thomas Barsoe and Robbie Dean of OC Hit, and mixed and mastered by Grammy-award winning producer/engineer Philip Allen

(Adele 21). The mid-tempo commercial Top 40 pop track has a runtime of 2:58 and features vocals, guitar, keys, drums, and authentic traditional Japanese instruments, including the koto and shakuhachi, which were incorporated in an effort to paint an atmospheric mood of the Japanese restaurant in Los Angeles, California that inspired this project.

"Ramen on Melrose" is a relatable story of the memories that leave lasting impressions long after the demise of any meaningful relationship. It tells a universal story of love and loss and incorporates authentic sound design elements that are not commonly used in American Top 40 Pop productions, therefore setting this song apart from the rest. ĒISA's heartfelt emotional performance and catchy chill vocal melody draw in listeners and set a vibe that is hopeful, uplifting and equally melancholic as she confronts the bittersweet feelings that come along with an unresolved ending.

"'Ramen on Melrose' was inspired by a recurring date spot and memories that significantly impacted my life. My memories painted a strong picture in my mind, and I felt the need to document them lyrically and creatively through visual art and music. I hope that people find comfort in the relatability of my personal experiences." ĒISA

The official audio will be accompanied by a music video, which will exclusively premiere on ĒISA's official YouTube channel on September 29, 2023. The enhanced content/ music video was executive produced by D&B Dynasty LLC in collaboration with DNT Entertainment and Imaginative Media and was co-directed by ĒISA herself and Dani N Thompson, with the support of producer and 1st AD Manny Mijares and producer and 2nd AD Anika Perera.
