Cybersecurity breaches that make the news are the large scale, large business attacks however small to midsize businesses are under increased attack and focus of cyber criminals. It isn't always clear to small to mid-size businesses but they are at risk as well. A recent July 23 cyber report outlined that there was an increase of 126% increase in payout amounts from the 1st quarter of 2023 and an estimated unreported event increase of 1026% in July alone. Is $1 a day per user too high a price to pay for some cybersecurity peace of mind?
