IAOVC launched an effort and immediately began contacting Apopka elected officials. IAOVC President, Andre' DiMino contacted each of the City Council members explaining the importance of Columbus as an iconic symbol to Italian Americans as well as facts debunking the false narrative about Columbus. City Commissioner Alexander Smith of Seat 1 of Apopka City Council took the time to communicate with IAOVC about the issue.

After Wednesday night's Apopka City Council meeting where the vote was taken, IAOVC was pleased to receive the following message from Commissioner Smith, "Yes, the issue was resolved. We are leaving Columbus Day as is. We are adding Indigenous Peoples Day to the City calendar for August 9 of each year."

IAOVC sincerely thanks the Apopka City Council, and especially City Commissioner Alexander Smith, for preserving Columbus Day!

"We are extremely pleased that the Apopka City Council responded favorably to our plea to preserve Columbus Day for Italian Americans, and actually for all Americans," commented DiMino. "We thank each of the elected officials who voted for Columbus Day and especially Commissioner Smith for his kind cooperation."
