"There is a political rift in Georgia yet 19 peoples liberty are at stake. Our organizational approach is to work in unison supporting all paths to vindication and that is reflected here in the three endorsements we have made in efforts to do what is best for the defendants. Not everyone will agree with this approach but this is not about policy , its about the lives and freedom of 19 people and the future of our country" said Jared Craig.

"Our priority is an immediate special session while simultaneously working for the prosecutorial oversight afforded under SB92. If that fails to occur this year than the next viable path would be the January session. Legislatures who do not act will face primary challenges and those who do not pursue viable paths we will endorse against at the national level " said Stan Fitzgerald
