The global demand for convenient, safe, and efficient access control systems in both residential and non-residential segments is likely to drive the home security solutions industry demand. As a result of the numerous criminal cases recorded around the world, such as theft, looting, and shootings, many people have placed security cameras at or near their homes. They can effortlessly monitor their home security while they are away from home. However, home security devices are costly from installation point of view. Thus, this factor is anticipated to have a negative impact on the market growth in the coming years.
