When Chiara was a seven-year-old, she created stories and filmed her friends as actors with her father's camera. She directed them and produced her own short films. Chiara wanted to become an actress and create her own stories to show to the world. At school, no one believed in her, they bullied her, saying that she would never become an actress, it was impossible to achieve what she wanted. Only her parents believed and supported her.

As a 13-year-old, she created a program for a local television station, but her dream was to make a TV show on Italian Villas and Castles in period costumes. In the following years she had many roles as an actress on the main Italian channels, Rai and Mediaset, in several successful series: Anna e I cinque, Il tredicesimo apostolo – Il presceto, Un matrimonio, Squadra mobile, The Red Band Society, Figli del destino, Double-Blind, and The Last Fighter.

At 30, when the world was at a standstill due to the Covid-19 pandemic, she decided to make her dream come true and produces Italian Dream - Villas & Castles. She wrote all the scripts and built her technical cast. She traveled around Italy where she chose wonderful locations from which to direct episodes.

Chiara grew up in a small town in Tuscany like Pisa. She is a woman who had the courage to create and realize her dream, a costume television series, which is now shown all over the world and translated into multiple languages. Italian Dream is successful, and Chiara has just finished filming the second season. Chiara wants all girls and women to choose to never give up. She shares that a woman must always believe in herself as only in this way is she invincible.
