In fact, the solar array installed by Sunergy Systems is the largest used for any brewery in the state of Washington. The system is 34.7kW, using 105 Silfab Solar 330HL (330W) solar modules. Installed in August 2021, it produced 38,364 kWh of clean energy during its first year and is estimated to produce 189,902 kWh over the first five years. And to make things even more energy-smart, Silfab Solar modules are manufactured in Bellingham and Burlington, in the state of Washington.

“We are more than thrilled with our solar energy system, stated Voyislav Kokeva, owner of Snoqualmie Falls

Brewery. “We love the savings on energy costs and doing our part for the environment. In fact, we like it so much we named one of our best brews, Solar Crush.”

Sunergy Systems Brewery Installation

In 1997, five beer geeks got together to form a company to brew craft beers. Today that dream operates as a small, independent craft brewery in the historic downtown of Snoqualmie Falls, Washington. They offer fresh, flavorful, and balanced beers, from Solar Crush to Wildcat IPA and Steam Train Porter. A menu of some of the best pub food like Brew Wings, Spicy Burgers, and BBQ Pulled Pork Sandwiches is served in the brewery or on the patio with stunning views. Whether for a family meal, gathering with friends or events and parties, the brewery creates an atmosphere for good times.
