

The Rose, A Breast Imaging Center of Excellence, to Launch Daily Podcast Episodes for Breast Cancer Awareness Month

HOUSTON, TEXAS, UNITED STATES,
September 27, 2023 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- The Rose Breast, A Breast Imaging Center of Excellence celebrates Breast Cancer Awareness Month with a daily dose of their podcast Let's Talk About Your Breasts.

Throughout the month of October, CEO and co-founder Dorothy Gibbons will host daily episodes, offering a platform for important discussions surrounding breast cancer and access to healthcare. Through this series, the podcast aims to further educate, empower, and provide support to individuals on their breast health journey.

“Our podcast Let's Talk About Your Breasts has thrown open the gates to life saving information. Never in our thirty-seven year history have we had such an opportunity to make a real and lasting difference as we will by airing a daily podcast during Breast Cancer Awareness Month,” said Gibbons in a statement.

With a carefully curated guest list, the podcast will feature renowned doctors, dedicated staff members, inspirational survivors, and passionate advocates. Their expertise and experiences will contribute to insightful conversations about breast cancer prevention, early detection, and treatment options, plus eye-opening discussions about who has access to healthcare and who doesn't. Episodes will also focus on real life and death stories that are seldom told.

As one of the premier breast care centers in Texas, The Rose Breast Center of Excellence has
