Validated Cloud*

The merger of these two leaders in the life sciences-regulated cloud sector is set to forge a powerful union that leverages the strengths of both entities. By integrating GxP-Cloud and ColBright's European domain knowledge with the GxP-compliant cloud expertise of Validated Cloud, the acquisition promises a holistic, enhanced service offering tailored for life sciences companies in Europe and US companies looking to expand their operations into Europe.

Douglas Lantigua, President of Validated Cloud, shared his vision behind the merger: "Uniting with GxP-Cloud/ColBright represents a pivotal moment for Validated Cloud. Our goal has always been to offer unparalleled, GxP-compliant cloud solutions globally. With GxP-Cloud/ColBright now part of our family, we have the local expertise and resources to bolster our presence in Europe, ensuring we cater even more effectively to our life sciences customers in the region."

Karel Bastiaanssen, CEO of GxP-Cloud, remarked, "We've held Validated Cloud in high regard for their dedication to excellence in the life sciences cloud domain. We envision a future where our combined competencies redefine GxP-compliant cloud offerings. Our shared ethos and commitment to innovation ensure our clients benefit from unmatched service."

As the demand for GxP-compliant cloud solutions in the life sciences sector continues upward, this acquisition further extends Validated Cloud's leadership in the market. By aligning with GxP-Cloud/ColBright, the company solidifies its standing as a global provider committed to delivering cutting-edge solutions to meet the unique challenges faced by life sciences entities worldwide.

Financial terms were not disclosed.
