Beep Kickball, an adapted sport designed for individuals with visual impairments, will take center stage during the event. The sport is characterized by players wearing blindfolds to level the playing field and bases and the ball emitting beeping sounds to facilitate location tracking. This adaptation enables people with visual impairments to actively participate in a sport that promotes inclusivity and teamwork.

John Ingram is more than just an individual navigating life without sight. He has over ten years as a coach, guiding players while emphasizing teamwork. He will coach the red and the blue teams in a Beep Kickball demonstration.

The charity event will feature a kickball tournament, orchestrated by the Hardbody Sports Kickball League, who are not only passionate about kickball but also committed to community activism. The league, founded by Lashern "Squeaky" Williams, has grown over the years, with over 100 members ranging from ages 7 to 50. They passionately support various charities, community and school programs, all while promoting sportsmanship and empathy on and off the field. Their motto, "We may all be different and special in our own ways, but we are all family. Hardbody Family," underscores their commitment to unity and community.

The Beep Kickball Charity Event will kick off with a warm welcome from Wake County Commissioner Don Mail, representing District 1, and an official kickoff led by The Sports Shop with Reese and K-Mac. Erroll Reese is , an individual who not only hosts a sports show but also actively contributes to charitable causes.

Fire Engine 21 from the Wake County Fire Department will be on-site to engage the children, and there will also be food trucks, vendors and an onsite raffle will be held, giving attendees a chance to win exciting prizes. Spectators are welcome to attend the event free of charge. Players are invited to participate with a $10 donation, which will support Insightful Visionaries Inc.'s mission to empower individuals with disabilities through advocacy, health, education, arts, sports, and entertainment.
