

Espresa Partners with Workday Experts Stormloop Technologies to Deliver Seamless Integration for HR and People Operation

PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, September 28, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Espresa works with global clients, most of whom use Workday as their primary HR management system for payroll, employee benefits, and finance. "Our mission has always been to provide next-level service. This partnership with Stormloop, a recognized leader in the Workday Enterprise Interface Builder (EIB) space, is another step towards achieving that," discussed Raghavan Menon, Chief Technology Officer and co-founder of Espresa.

HR Technology Doing the Heavy Lifting

Integrating Workday with Espresa is straightforward, with simple inbound and outbound configuration on the Espresa Platform. "Workday's EIB generates a full demographic file that creates or updates employees within the Espresa platform," explained Scott Rushton, Stormloop Technologies Workday Services Lead. "The fields on the file are straightforward, and the field reporting is fully customizable to meet the customer's needs for enhanced reporting."

Stormloop
Technologies

Espresa and Stormloop Technologies have forged a dynamic, client-specific solution by leveraging a tailored approach. Rushton elaborated. "Once we've determined the client requirements, the integration can quickly go live, and unless there's a new need, HR doesn't have to think about it again."

A Refined and Fast-Track Solution for People Operations

"Our collaboration with Stormloop simplifies integrations using Workday's EIB," Menon revealed. "In today's fast-paced world, we aim to provide HR with tools that streamline processes and drive success."

With Stormloop Technologies and Espresa, HR and people teams don't worry about the technical details but instead focus on employee engagement. "By combining forces, we can deliver quick and easy integrations with Workday," commented Menon."
