What is the secret to why R.E. Amplified was successful? Why podcast listeners should be tuned in to Jason Talks? Let's find out and catch up with Jason.

Congrats! On your first-ever event in Long Beach.

Jason: "R.E. Amplified in Long Beach, California, was a remarkable event that united passionate individuals in real estate, entrepreneurship, and personal development. Our goal was to inspire attendees, provide insights, and foster connections. Success came from diverse speakers, engaged attendees, and a welcoming atmosphere, leading to lasting partnerships. It celebrated real estate and the power of collaboration and personal growth. In our small community, everyone is family, and we certainly cannot just treat them like numbers; this is the only way one can earn the trust and respect of every person. We are proud and committed to building this culture and success for our community."

Jason Santos

Jason: "Thrilled to share more about the podcast, "Jason Talks," which is set to air next month on Spotify. This podcast is a passion project close to my heart. Honestly didn't know how managed to film 12 episodes in such a short time with the help of an amazing team, which shows that truly enjoyed every minute of each conversation with guests. Genuinely excited about the content we have in store.

"Jason Talks" is all about exploring the captivating journeys of our guests, who come from diverse backgrounds in both business and life. A few of the guests were fellow Filipinos who were inspired because they were able to inject themselves into places where we as Filipinos needed representation, as Filipino, was very proud of that!

We aim to provide our listeners with more than just a series of interviews. We want "Jason Talks" to be a source of genuine inspiration, a place where our audience can gain actionable takeaways that can be applied to their own entrepreneurial and personal endeavors.

Each episode will explore the unique paths our guests have taken, the challenges they've overcome, and the strategies and mindsets that have propelled them to success. Whether it's a seasoned entrepreneur, a trailblazing artist, or a thought leader in their field, our guests will offer a wealth of knowledge and wisdom.
