“We founded the CoP with the belief that collaboration between the academic, public and private sectors could solve the most pressing problems of today's higher education institutions” said Dr. David K. Rehr, co-Director of the VA Academic IA CoP and a Professor at GMU. “We are delighted to be partnering with WonderBotz with their thought leadership and 'hands-on' experience and commitment to VA schools, especially as our reach continues to grow.”

“I am thrilled that Wonderbotz is joining The VA Academic IA CoP. In particular, my own service on the Advisory Board to give back in a more tangible way to the Higher Education community is exciting.

Ultimately the modernization of our colleges and universities will impact future students and therefore the future of work; it's an honor to be a part of that charge," said Paula Carneiro Cox, Senior Vice President, Business Development at Wonderbotz.

"We share a common goal of advancing intelligent automation solutions and modernizing higher education institutions that benefits tomorrow's student needs" said Dorin Munteanu, co-director of the VA Academic IA CoP. He continued "therefore, partnering with WonderBotz's industry expertise will help bring the latest technologies to higher education, operations staff and enhance student opportunities."

"WonderBotz has invested in the Higher Education community over the last year by bundling our education-related automations in a way that Virginia Universities can share the IP of their automation builds, maximizing IA adoption rates and augmenting our mission to modernize the Higher Education community as a whole," Paula Carneiro Cox continued.
