

Hempacco and Snoop Dogg's Hemp-Derived Vapes Receive $2.25 Million Purchase Order

Hempacco and Snoop Dogg's Collaboration Continues to Disrupt the Tobacco Industry with Their New Hemp Vapes

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, September 28, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Hempacco (<https://hempacco.com/>), a leading innovator within the hemp smokables industry, recently announced its $2.25 million purchase order from an esteemed master distributor, AAA Smoke and Vape, for their latest "Dogg lbs" brand THCA vapes. With the product still being in the research and development phase, this is revolutionary for the company as the distributor wants to be the first to receive the product before it even hits the marketplace.

The graphic features the Hempacco Paper Company logo at the top, which includes a gear icon and the text "HEMPACCO PAPER COMPANY". Below the logo, the headline reads "HPCO Receives $2.250 M PO for Dogg lbs Vapes" in bold green and gold text. The central image shows a collage of US dollar bills (including $100 and $20 bills) and a portrait of Snoop Dogg wearing a hooded jacket, set against a blue background with gold floral patterns. The "Dogg lbs" logo is overlaid on the portrait. At the bottom, an orange banner contains the text "TICKER: HPCO" and the website "hempacco.com" with a globe icon.

Hempacco and Snoop Dogg's Research and Development teams have been working together to create a line of hemp vapes that are cost-efficient, more accessible and hold the same functionality and effect as traditional tobacco products.

"For the consumer, this is transformative because now you can go anywhere and purchase the hemp vapes," co-founder Jorge Olson said. "You can buy them at your liquor store, buy them where you buy cigars or even online and they can be shipped through the mail."

Not only is the development of Hempacco and Snoop Dogg's THCA vapes beneficial for consumers, but it also increases the productivity of the supply chain. AAA Smoke and Vape's offer on this line of products makes it the first to be able to distribute the effective hemp vape featuring the hemp-derived THCA cannabinoid. With the ability to already pre-sell the Dogg lbs

Hemp Vapes, the distributor will immediately be able to ship the product to other distributors along with any store, not just stores that sell THC.

Hempacco is almost ready to launch the hemp vapes, which will include six flavors that are both thrilling and inventive. Once out of beta-testing, the line will be manufactured in Hempacco's factory in San Diego, California.
