The Summit County Parade of Homes is an annual parade brought to you by the Summit County Builders Association. This event supports home builders, contractors, architects, designers and other industry professionals by showcasing their work in the most pristine properties built in Summit County. With 160 participating members, this is one of the largest collections of homes in the region.

It's always a pleasure working with New West Partners in all of their beautiful homes.”

Mike Clifton

Granite and Marble Designs is participating in their 11th year at the Summit County Parade of Homes. Best Overall Home is the highest level of recognition in the parade.

“It's always a pleasure working with New West Partners in all of their beautiful homes,” said Mike Clifton, owner of Granite and Marble Designs. “There are so many talented competitors, so this award is incredibly meaningful. It's always an honor to participate in the Parade of Homes and it's something we look forward to every year.”

This award is important because it signifies the level of craftsmanship and attention to detail provided by the stone fabricators at Granite and Marble Designs. The Parade of Homes consists of the most renowned and reputable industry professionals in the region. Best Overall Home recognizes the house with the most outstanding quality and design execution. From the fixtures to the stonework, it takes a team of talented professionals to achieve this recognition.
