This week, the highly esteemed International Wine & Spirits Council \(IWSC\) in London revealed that Legends Distillery /Spirits of the USA has earned a coveted position on their Top Four Shortlist for the title of Best Worldwide Whiskey Producer. This distinction is a momentous achievement, particularly for a distillery with relatively humble beginnings.

Legends Distillery's ascent to greatness can be attributed to their pioneering “QDRT” Quantum Distillation Refinement Technology, a patented innovation that effectively eliminates up to 65% of congeners typically found in alcohol, all while preserving the rich, nuanced flavors. This cutting-edge technology enables their traditionally aged bourbons to mature and interact with oak before undergoing their 5 stage QDRT processing & filtration. The result is nothing short of exceptional - platinum award-winning spirits that have left an indelible mark on the spirits industry.
