Housed in a building that was once a printing press repair shop and an auto parts service center, the venue has been transformed into a 5,000-square-foot mixed-use creative facility. The interior includes a projection-mapped art gallery, a state-of-the-art music venue, and a bar with an extensive drink menu featuring 27 beers and ciders, 7 draft cocktails, and 4 wines on tap. Outside, the 15,000-square-foot Art Yard invites guests to explore street art, enjoy yard games, and indulge in local food trucks. The venue is open seven days a week and offers art classes, outdoor artist markets, and gallery shows curated by local artists from the DFW area. It also showcases performers like Hojean and many more.
